C. H. S. Scholarship Scores Compared with State Distribution

School officials have received tabulated results of the state distribution of scores in the scholarship tests given recently to pupils in high schools over the state.

A comparison of scores of our pupils with the state median (average) scores, shows that twenty-three C. H. S. pupils ranked above the median in the subject-fields in which they were tested. The results by subjects are as follows: In Biology four pupils were above the state median score; in Chemistry, three; General Science, two; Algebra, three; American History, two; World History, three; English I, one; English II, two; English III, three pupils.

High scores in each of the above tests were: Biology, Don Turner; Chemistry, Don Chesnut; General Science, Marilyn Kyle; Algebra I, Betsy Bralley; American History, Martha Richards; World History, Max Ritenour; English I, Emily Swanton; English II, Janet Gordon, and English III, Janet Hull. Sixty-two percent of our pupils who took the tests ranked above the state median.

Ross Game Won by Indians

The Cedarville Indians moved into the finals of the Greene County Baseball Tournament this past Tuesday by downing the Ross Panthers 5 to 3.

It was sweet revenge for the Indians, having been defeated in the Championship playoff in the Fall league by Ross. It was a well pitched game by both sides, with errors and walks playing a major part in the scoring. Tackett let Ross down with 4 hits, while Anderson allowed Cedarville only 2.

The Indians opened the scoring in their half of the first. Jim Luttrell was safe on an error, and moved to second on Jim Parker's sacrifice. Mel Tackett grounded out, sending Luttrell to third. Vest, batting in the clean-up spot, was intentionally passed, but Bob Peterson came through in the clutch with a ground single to left-center scoring both men.

Ross came right back in the same inning to cut the margin to 2-1, on two hits by Carper and Steen and a Cedarville error.

The Panthers tallied once again in the third, when with two out, Carper singled and moved to second on a wild pitch. Steen then chipped one in front of the plate, but Vest's throw to first was wide, and Carper scored from second.

Cedarville threatened in the sixth as Don Chesnut made it to first on an error by first baseman Massie. Chesnut stole second; Heathcock struck out, but Heldorn walked to keep the rally going. However, Stewart forced a runner, and Luttrell grounded out to end the inning.

Ross also tried to forge ahead in the sixth. Stoen opened the inning with a double down the left field line, but could not score as Tackett hore down and retired the next three men in order.

The winning tallies came in the top of the seventh. Parker walked, Tackett singled, and Vest was again intentionally passed, to load the bases. Andrews walked, Peterson, forcing in Parker with what proved to be the winning run. Chesnut struck out, but Sam Heathcock laid down a sacrifice, which accompanied with an error, scored the final two runs.

Ross went down one, two, three in their half of the seventh, and Cedarville was in the finals of the baseball tournament.

Ross committed six errors, and Cedarville missed two chances. Mel Tackett was in complete control all the way, striking out 11 while walking only one. Andrews struck out 7 and walked six.

Indians Win Quarter-Final Game

The baseball season officially opened for Cedarville High School last Wednesday when the Indians met Jamestown's Vikings at Jamestown.

At the end of the second inning, the score stood 0-0 in favor of Cedarville and at this time due to the inclement weather conditions the game was discontinued after the request of the Jamestown coach. Thus the game will go down in the record book as a 7-0 forfeit by Jamestown, credited as a win to Cedarville.

The Indians racked up most of their tallies by an abundance of

IT CAN BE DONE

Now and then you wish it were always—when you get a bill or statement marked "Pd." Next to "Inclosed find check" the world that is—no more comforting combination of letters. The enterprise which engineers and landowners devised a few years ago that they called the Miami Valley Conservation district bears that label.

It is paid for. Who paid for it? The government? Please, PLEASE, don't say that! The people paid for it. Fortunately the system was designed and built and put into operation before the epoch of government aid came on the scene to blur it. The world has not known as good a system of flood protection, tested and tried over a period of almost 40 years, and don't forget—it is paid for!

ACCUSATIONS

During the war, as you may remember sadly, cries of "Slacker" and "Fifth Columnist" raised by any one against any one else who might have voiced a sentiment not exactly in accord with the accuser's views. 'Twas ever thus. Now-a-days the term of reproach is "Communist!" Many a person who is blameless as a Revolutionary citizen-soldier is being called a "Communist," and by the same token, many a snoop, turncoat, disloyal person is actually trying to undermine the government. One of the mysteries that is not explained is how any American could wish to destroy this country and establish one on the Russian system! Nothing is harder to understand than that.

BURIED TREASURE

British navy divers are pattering around the bulk of a wooden ship at the bottom of the sea off Western Scotland. There is a whisper that it might be the Florentia that went to Davy Jones' 400 years ago with $84,000,000 aboard.

If the ship proves to be the Florentia those Brits will get to it if they have to carry the ocean off in gallon buckets. The story goes that one afternoon all London, Royalty and prince and pauper, were attending a regatta on the Thames. Some men were tossing coins—English "tuppence" and the like—into the river for the ragamuffin lads to dive after. Some Americaners began tossing in silver dollars. A cockney shouted: "Hy, sy, have a care! You'll be havin' the king divin'!" If there's gold in them there holds under the sea, the king may take to divin' sho nuff.

HEAR YE, HEAR YE!

Justice William Douglas, you remember, was injured badly some time ago when a horse fell on him. Back on the job at the supreme court he has some good advice to give people who seek serenity in their lives. Not as commandments though they number 10, he lays down the rules like these: Keep strong enough to work, study what you are afraid of, live in the future, look into your prejudices, don't allow yourself to become lazy, develop your talents, live beyond and above yourself, have faith in God. (The last could well have been first.) And "Living beyond and above yourself might be taken to mean buying a television set even if you can't afford it. No—joking the justice's program is a mighty good one.

A-MEDICINE

While the world dreads atomic power and fears the frightful uses to which it may be put, steadily scientists go forward with experiments in the application of atomic energy to practical and helpful things. It is being whispered that the time is not far off when medical treatments of atomic energy will be everyday occurrences. We would suggest trying it first on a school boy who is sick at his tummy—until after the school bell rings.

WE ALL PAY IT

Neighboring Highland county paid in January and February a total of over $50,000 to unemployed persons in the county. That is more money than the county spends in five years helping unfortunate persons up until some 20 years ago.

THE WAY OUT

Practical application of atomic power to take the place of steam, electricity and diesel power, is being considered. The American President steamship line believes it possible to power its round-the-world ships with atomic energy. That is the solution to the

REV. ROBERT H. HARPER

Amos Attacks Social Injustice
Lesson for April 23: Amos 4:1-2; 1-6; 8: 4-7.
Memory Selection: Amos 5: 15.

OUR LESSON TEXT begins with the denunciation by Amos of the intemperate women of the time. He calls them "kine of Bashan." They abused the poor and needy and constantly urged their husbands to arrange drinking parties. It is claimed that more than 50 per cent of the women of our country are drinkers. Many of them do not hesitate to go into cars and drink along with men.

The prophet also spoke against those who were at ease in Zion, and who were to lie on beds of ivory, to feast, to sing, to drink, regardless of the nation's misery, of the poverty and affliction that were widespread.

Amos wrote that God had solemnly vowed not to forget the evil deeds of those who were swatting up the needy. With faulty weights and measures they defrauded the poor and they lived luxuriously on the people's misery. They kept the people poor that they might be rich.

It is tragically true that many American women have taken to the bottle. The country needs to be aroused over the many evils in our economic life. And we should be stirred over the increasing use of strong drink by all classes and conditions of our people. The individual and the church cannot afford to temporize and compromise in the matter. Let us be aroused to the dangers that beset our country at the present time.

UNDER THE BELT

Bitterly it is being argued that we can't do business with Stalin. The way his representatives in UN walk out between meals serves as an argument. True, Russia? Personally we think that any country that provides caviar that people actually eat would do anything—even say invented love and kisses.

PARAGRAPHS

Headline—"Gas Bill on Floor of House." Who among you, brethren, would make a nasty crack about it?

A Toledo man got a check for $1,000,300. Only $300 was correct, but the preceding figures gave him quite a lift to carry around in his pocket for a while.

Headline—"Price Supports for Hogs Ends." Props out from under both ends, eh?

The president complains that three angry Republicans have undermined our international policy. Tattlers as it is, it will fall on them if they aren't careful.

An Akron man snuck back to the income tax man to report a much larger income than he had turned in. "Don't tell her!" he requested. Who among you is whomst?

A driverless car ran amuck in Pittsburgh. Usually that kind is the only safe car.

A husband and wife—Bob and Dianna—are flying around the world. Not every husband and wife do that, but most of them get up in the air enough for a good start—a lot of times.

"HOW TO WIN FRIENDS and INFLUENCE PEOPLE"

The Blackbird and the Thrush

HERE'S A LAUGH for you. After you've laughed, read on through the last sentence. I found this in "Live a New Life" by Professor David G. Powers, a small book but an interesting one, check full of good advice, subtly given.

One Christmas day in 1700, Pat's wife Mary brought in a beautifully roasted chicken. As she placed her bird on the table, a blackbird alighted on the window sill. "Pat," she said, "look at that beautiful blackbird in the window."

Just then the blackbird flew away, and as Pat came within range of the window, a thrush alighted where the blackbird had been.

"You mean a thrush, don't you, Mary?" he said.

Mary, busy at the table, didn't look toward the window again, until the thrush flew away.

"I mean the blackbird that was there," she said.

Pat looked at his wife coolly and answered, "It was a thrush." Now Mary's blood pressure rose. "I know a blackbird when I see one," she said.

"Wish, woman," snorted her angry husband. "You don't know anything."

And from that a real row ensued.

The next Christmas as Mary placed her chicken on the table, she said, "Thank God, there's no blackbird on the window sill this year."

Said Pat, "Are you referring to the thrush that was there last year?"

And another fight was on. For 20 years this fight was renewed each Christmas day.

Now: do you ever, or have you ever, followed Mary's and Pat's example, even though it might be, or might have been, in a lesser degree? Most people aren't free from such a temptation, and no one ever gained from its practice any more than did Mary or Pat.

CLARENCE J. BROWN Writes With a Buckeye In Congress

The Special House Committee investigating lobbyists' activities will resume its hearings on April 19. While the lobby inquiry instigated to show up only those lobbyists who oppose various features of Mr. Truman's program, the hearings up to date have disclosed there are at least as many lobbyists working for the enactment of the Truman legislative proposals as those who oppose them. The only difference in the lobbyists seemingly is that most of those supporting the Administration measures are receiving their compensation from the Federal treasury.

While the number of unemployed has dropped about 500 thousand during the last month, down to a total of slightly more than 4 1/4 million, due to the usual spring pickup in employment, look for the Truman Administration to start beating the drums for new legislation to give larger unemployment benefits for longer periods of time, and perhaps to federalize the whole compensation program.

Administration officials are considerably worried over the governmental fiscal outlook. Tax collections up to March 15 are said to have fallen approximately $1 billion below Treasury estimates, and there is every indication the government deficit for the coming fiscal year will be somewhere between $7 and $10 billion instead of $5 billion as originally predicted.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Nettie I. Vanderwerker of Jackson, Mich.: "I remember the first washing machine. A sheet was soaked and laid flat on the floor and the clothes were soaped and laid flat on the sheet. The sheet was folded to fit a contraption that was fastened in the wooden tub and the handle was turned back and forth in the water. It was all corrugated, unlike the present-day wringer."

From Mrs. John R. Martin of Rumford, Me.: "I remember when lard and practically everything else except molasses and kerosene, was weighed and wrapped in a square of old, dark-brown 'butcher's paper,' a forerunner of craft paper. Later, around 1882, paper bags were used. One grocer I knew, in Wilton, Me., gave children a penny's worth of candy for every six clean paper bags they returned after use. Sometimes a child returned a bag in which lard had been, so when he re-used the bag for sugar the result was unpleasant. He would third-degree each child before he would accept a bag for re-use."

From Mrs. Vera Kiehl of Norwood, O.: "I remember when women wore high-buttoned boots and it was considered 'immodest' for women ever to let their ankles be seen in public—and if a woman had her hair cut she was almost a social outcast. In those days it was even considered sinful to see a movie. How times have changed!"

Food for thought: Based on President's budget, here's what operating the federal government during the fiscal year will cost the taxpayers of each County of the 7th Congressional District of Ohio in comparison to the total State and local taxes paid in the same counties for all purposes in 1949. (The federal government cost will be given first, followed by the cost of state and all local governments.)

Champaign county, $4,955,008 as compared to $634,880; Clark county $36,156,840 as compared to $3,518,372; Clinton county $5,519,192 as compared to $661,627; Fayette county $5,322,954 as compared to $530,004; Greene county $9,732,538 as compared to $1,007,035; Ligon county $5,347,484 as compared to $671,544; Madison county $3,409,634 as compared to $556,773; Union county $3,066,218 as compared to $556,773; Warren county $2,086,218 as compared to $449,800; and Warren county $6,794,789 as compared to $728,780. Total cost of the Federal government to the 7th district for one year, $79,046,657—for state and local governments, $8,808,275.

According to the latest available figures, in addition to our $260 billion dollar national debt our federal government has secondary obligations which may have to be paid as follows: Veterans loans insured by the government, $9 billion; FHA insured loans, $8 billion; $5.0 million; R.R. loans to industries, etc. (including Lustron and Henry Kaiser) $27.7 billion; $197.4 billion; all public housing, $16 billion; other government obligations of the Federal government (including surplus, etc.) $41 billion.

War scares have become such a customary development each spring when congress considers foreign aid bills and appropriations for the military establishment that many Washingtonians are now predicting the mystery submarines and war clouds will disappear soon after the RCA bill and the omnibus appropriation measure clear the legislative hurdles in the house and senate.

NO PLACE TO HIDE

With business activity at nearly as high a level as in 1949, and expected to remain so throughout most of 1950, net profits of most American concerns are less this year than last. Net income from farming is running at a much lower figure than 1949, but the commodities the farmer must buy remain as high as, and perhaps a bit higher than, during 1948 and 1949. Incidentally, recent droughts and dust storms in the wheat belt are expected by agricultural experts to reduce America's 1950 wheat crop by many millions of bushels.

Federal officials are warning the American people to beware of Canadian mining stocks now being offered for sale in this country by long-distance telephone or by smooth-talking strangers. There have been many reports received here, especially from veterans, as to how they have been defrauded by "phony" stock in Canadian silver, gold, and uranium mines. So, beware!

In case you are interested, there were 3 million 800 thousand babies born in the United States last year—the second highest number in the nation's history. The all time baby crop record was set in 1947, when 3 million 700 thousand new Americans were born in the world. In 1948, 3.5 million arrived in this country. The 1950 baby "harvest" is expected to be nearly as high as last year.

Why all the hullabaloo about loyalty oaths? The first law passed at the first session of the First Congress of the United States, Statute No. 1, effective June 1, 1789—required the President, Members of the House and Senate and other Federal officials to take an oath of loyalty and to support and defend the Constitution of the United States. President George Washington didn't hesitate to sign the "loyalty oath" bill into law promptly, and to abide by and support it.

WASHINGTON REPORT

BY SENATOR ROBERT A. TAFT

AS A result of Senator McCarthy's charges that Communists are still in the State Department, the Senate passed a resolution directing the Foreign Relations subcommittee to make a full investigation of these charges, and "to procure by subpoena the complete loyalty and employment files" dealing with personnel in the State Department, not only from the Department but also from the FBI and the Civil Service Commission.

President Truman recently attacked the Republicans for supporting Senator McCarthy. As a matter of fact, it was not the Republican Policy Committee but the Democratic Senate itself which passed this resolution for an investigation supported by loyalty files. Senator McCarthy did not consult the Republican Policy Committee before making his charges, and the intelligence in the individual cases has not been available to us. But we have insisted that in accordance with the Senate resolution a complete investigation is justified and should be made without prejudice and with a sincere effort to obtain the real facts.

Instead of that, the President assumes the innocence of all persons mentioned in the department just as he called the attack on Alger Hiss a "red herring" when the House Committee first brought out the facts. Up to date a majority of the investigating committee has made no real effort to find out the truth, except to go through the form of issuing subpoenas, and they have tended to try Senator McCarthy rather than to carry out the real purpose of the committee.

The President also had tried to insult Senator McCarthy by calling him a "Kremlin asset" and has refused access to the files.

THE Hiss case and the Wadleigh testimony proved beyond question that at one time high officials in the State Department were delivering secret documents to Russian agents. The Amerasia case in which Jaffe pleaded guilty, proved that State Department files of the greatest importance were freely available to a Communist-controlled publication.

Even more alarming is the fact that the State Department repeatedly ignored information

Successful Parenthood

BY MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

THERE IS NOTHING more exciting than watching a little child use his brain. We say watching, for the process of thought is reflected in the child's expression. Like a youngster learning to write he seems to be using his whole body to think with!

The brain grows with use and this is just as true of a baby or a small child as it is of a boy or girl who is in school. Babies who are treated like dolls, with only their physical needs cared for, no matter how lovingly, are being deprived of the incentive to develop their awakening intelligence. Little children who are never allowed to make a decision, who aren't given explanations of strange sights and sounds are likewise lacking the materials for learning to think.

Suppose you are taking a three-year-old on a journey by train, or whisking him by air across the continent to visit his grandparents. Don't treat him like baggage to be kept pacified until the trip is over. Describe the experience to him beforehand, show him pictures of trains or planes, prepare him for the other passengers and for the strange stewards or maid who may help him care for him. Tell him about meals off trays or in dining cars, presenting them as pleasant and as something to look forward to.

Having an idea of what is ahead, even if the reality turns out to be quite different from the way his imagination has pictured it, the child will unconsciously compare notes—he will observe, question, adjust. In other words, his brain as well as his emotions will be exercised.

Hubert Sword is the new head of the Washington C. H. Moose. The sons of the late George Geyer will continue the construction of the motel planned in Fairborn.

Marshall Grange met in Jeffersonville last week. Over 400 children had part in the egg hunt at Yellow Springs. March 2, 1950, set a record for a new low — 7 degrees.
